Louis Brickman, L. Villa Police Magistrate, Dies

Passes Away Within Week After Golden Wedding Celebration

Less than a week after he and his wife had celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, Louis G. Brickman, 71, died of a heart ailment Saturday at his home on Grand avenue, Lake Villa.

Services were held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Strang Funeral home, with the Rev. John DeVries of Lake Villa officiating.

Brickman had been a resident of Lake Villa for 18 years, of the Druce's lake community for five years and the Gage's lake community for two years. Previously, he had made his home in Chicago.

He was born Aug. 9, 1872, in La Porte, Ind.

Brickman served as Lake Villa police magistrate and was a member of the Lake Villa fire district board. He owned a grocery store on Grand avenue and served as maintenance man at the Lake Villa grade school for 16 years.

His last work prior to his death was with the Automotive Maintenance Machinery company in North Chicago.

Surviving are his wife, Emma, to whom he was united in marriage 50 years ago June 18; a daughter, Mrs. Florence Hurley of Forest Park, Ill.; three grandsons, Donald and Thomas Hurley, serving with the navy, and Russell Hurley, in the army air corps.

A brother, George Brickman, is a resident of Clarendon Hills, Ill., and a sister lives in Forest Park.

Village Vehicle Taxes Due, Owners Notified

The attention of vehicle owners residing in the village is being called by Chief of Police Fred Petersen to the fact that village vehicle taxes are now due. Payment may be made to Village Clerk Roy L. Murrie.

News of the Boys in Service

Expected home soon on sick leave is Pfc. Martin Furlan, Jr., who was awarded the Silver Star at Anzio. Furlan, according to information since made public, "through his bravery saved his entire squad from injury and prevented ammunition from being destroyed." He was also awarded the Purple Heart.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Furlan, route 1.

Co. Firemen Install Charles Nelson of W'kegan, President

Antioch Dept. Host to 100 County Firemen Monday

Charles Nelson of the American Steel and Wire company's fire department, North Chicago, was installed as president of the Lake County Firemen's association at a meeting to which the Antioch department was host Monday evening in St. Ignatius' Guild hall.

Other new officers who were installed are Julius Geary, Lake Zurich, vice-president; Lloyd Keine, Mundelein, treasurer, (re-elected); Irwin Barnstable, Lake Villa, sergeant-at-arms, and Carl Hellquist, Waukegan, secretary.

A past president's badge was presented to Norman Hoff, Waukegan.

Chief J. Sheehan of the Pure Oil laboratories, Northfield, gave an illustrated lecture on methods of extinguishing petroleum fires with pressure foam equipment. Motion pictures were used to exemplify points in his talk.

A program of magic given by Jack Staley, boatswain's mate, second class, of Great Lakes.

A buffet supper was served by the Antioch department to the 100 firemen attending the meeting.

Medinah Temple Program Presents Colorful Scene

Lake County Shrine Gathering Attracts Many Music Lovers to Antioch

The wide tree-shaded lawn and outdoor terrace stage of Antioch Township High school made a magnificent setting for the concerts presented by the Medinah temple brass band and chanters Sunday afternoon and evening as highlights of a gathering sponsored by the Lake County Shrine club in honor of Medinah Potentate Fred B. Swanson.

The green, gold and maroon uniforms of the bandmen and chanters and the grouped flags of the Allied Nations made a colorful picture against the facade of the building.

Many of the Shriners in the groups of spectators about the lawn wore their fezzes, adding to the colorful aspects of the scene.

Since the program was open to the public, several hundred music lovers of this and adjoining communities, as well as from more distant cities, availed themselves of the opportunity to share in the enjoyment of the outdoor concerts.

Some attended the entire program of the day, while others were present for some portion of it. Many passers-by also stopped their cars along South Main street to listen to the music.

While the visiting organizations brought their own picnic dinner and supper, members of the Antioch Order of Eastern Star acted as a hostess committee for serving them.

In addition to the band and choral numbers, which were warmly applauded, Lois Wallner of radio fame was featured in the "Indian Love Call" aria from the light opera "Rose Marie," and with Charles Sears, tenor, who has also been featured over the radio, presented the duet, "Sweetheart." Sears' solo, "A Pretty Girl Is Like a Melody," was another pleasing presentation.

As the climax of the program the band and chanters joined in the "Victory Polka."

Miss Norma Ballard, radio organist, gathered an applauding crowd about her at the close of the evening concert as she gave an hour's recital of popular selections, graciously playing many request numbers.

Out-Door Dancing to Be Legion Carnival Feature

Antioch Legion Post has contracted with the Antioch Lions club for the use of its dance platform, which will be erected at the grounds near the Village park, so that dancing can be enjoyed free each evening during the festival on July 13, 14, 15 and 16.

The grounds committee has arranged with Charles Ackerman, owner of the property where the festival will be held, to use sufficient space so that plenty of parking room will be available.

G. O. P. Choice for President

Capturing all votes but one, that of a MacArthur pledged delegate, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York was nominated as the Republican candidate for president in a stirring session yesterday in Chicago. Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio will be his running-mate as candidate for the vice-presidency on the Republican ticket.

Around the Resorts

A black bass weighing five pounds, six ounces was caught last week off Stoltz resort, Bluff lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Pagels of Chicago, who took over the management of Fred Wohlfeil's place on Grass Lake road, report that they have been doing well and are enjoying their residence in the lakes region. The Wohlfeils are residing near the Eugene Runyard home and enjoying a much-needed rest.

Preparations for a "large" weekend and Fourth of July holiday are being made by the resorts throughout the lakes area.

Since many persons will not have the time nor the gasoline to go any great distance, it is expected that there will be a particularly large influx of Chicagoans and residents of other lake shore cities.

Rev. Henslee to Continue Methodist Pastorate Here

The Rev. Warren C. Henslee has been appointed pastor of the Antioch Methodist church for another year, it was announced following a meeting of the Rock River conference last week in Chicago.

This will be the eighth year of his pastorate here.

Bishop J. Ralph Magee presided over the conference, at which 300 ministers, representing 54 charges, were present.

The Rev. and Mrs. Henslee were among those attending during two days of the conference.

Mrs. Adah Verrier of Waukegan is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Clara Westlake this week.

Legion Auxiliary Elects Mrs. Hand as New President

Mrs. Lillian Hand was elected president of the Antioch American Legion auxiliary to succeed Mrs. Anne Heath, at a meeting Friday evening in the home of Mrs. Elsie Hays.

Others of the new officers, who will be installed at a meeting in September, are Mrs. Maud Johnson, first vice-president; Mrs. Clara Horton, second vice-president; Mrs. Rose Kennedy, treasurer.

Miss Mary Cosgrove is chaplain; Miss Mildred Horan, historian; Miss Charlene Jorgensen, sergeant-at-arms.

A bouquet was presented to Mrs. Heath in honor of her twenty-fourth wedding anniversary.

Twenty-five were present to enjoy cards and a social time after the business meeting.

Assisting Mrs. Hays on the hostess committee were Mes. William Thiemann, Eva Kaye, Paul Chase, Otto S. Klass and the Misses Mary and Vivian Cosgrove.

Dr. Keefe Moves to New Office Quarters

Dr. Frank Keefe, O. O. S., is now located in his new offices at 894 Main street, having moved from 948 main street, where he has been located for the past several years.

Mrs. Howard Johnson of Waukegan spent Saturday with her sister, Mrs. Morris Radtke and family, Saturday.

Mother of Six Servicemen Will Aid in Ceremony

Mrs. C. Diemer to Unveil Honor Roll at Felter Subd'n Sunday

The mother of six sons now in the armed service, three in the army and three in the navy, Mrs. C. Diemer will unveil the honor roll to be dedicated at Felter's subdivision, Lake Catherine, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Army members of the family of Mrs. Diemer, who is a widow, are Chaplain Charles J., and Captains Joseph and Walter. Serving their country in the navy are Robert G., Richard J. and Gene A. Diemer.

The program is to be sponsored by the Felter's Lake Catherine association, assisted by members of the Antioch Legion post, and will be held in the association park, just off Highway 173.

It will open with presentation of the colors, by a color guard from the Antioch Legion and the Sons of the Legion Drum corps. The singing of "America" and the pledge of allegiance to the flag are to be followed with the invocation by the Rev. W. C. Henslee.

Burke to Give Welcome
John Burke, president of Felter's association, will give the address of welcome and will introduce Roman B. Vos, commander of the Antioch Civilian War council, who is to act as master of ceremonies. Drum corps selections will follow.

A brief talk on "Community Service" will be given by John L. Horan, junior vice-commander of the American Legion's Tenth Illinois district. Olga Himens will be featured in a vocal solo, accompanied by Hans von Holwede.

Otto S. Klass, Americanism chairman of the Antioch Legion post, will speak on "Americanism."

After the unveiling of the Honor Roll, the presentation of flags will be made by Mrs. W. W. Doty on behalf of the Ladies' auxiliary of the Felter's association, of which she is president. The speech of acceptance will be made by President Burke on behalf of the association.

Singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" by the assembly, and pronouncement of the benediction by the Rev. Francis M. Flaherty will complete the program.

Silver Lake Has 11-3 Softball Score Over Antioch in League Game

In the newly formed Brass Ball Corners Softball league, Antioch lost a 11-to-3 decision to Silver Lake Tuesday night.

Danny Palaske, president of the new league, states that he has been well pleased with the large attendance at the games. Due to the fact that all of the teams in the league are newly organized, he states that after several weeks of play, the boys should all be in shape to entertain the crowd with "heads up" ball.

Thursday night's double header, Brass Ball Corners' team nosed out Brighton, 2 to 1. In the second game of the bill, New Munster outslugged Silver Lake, 12 to 6. In Monday night's game Salem was the victor of Brass Ball 18 to 4.

Tonight (Thursday) Antioch meets Brighton for the first time.

Games scheduled for next week are as follows:

Monday, July 3—Salem vs. Silver Lake

Tuesday—Brighton vs. New Munster

Wednesday—Antioch vs. Salem

Thursday—Brass Ball vs. Silver Lake.

All games are scheduled to start at 8:30 P. M.

First Aid Squad Is Called to Fox Lake in Rescue Attempt

George Kellen, 15, of Chicago, who with an older brother had been swimming from a boat in the 14-foot-deep channel under the bridge on Route 12 between Piskakee and Nippersink lakes at Fox Lake, was drowned Monday afternoon shortly before 2 o'clock.

The body was recovered 45 minutes later by the Antioch Rescue squad, which was called to assist the Fox Lake squad, and was brought to the Strang Funeral home in Antioch, where a coroner's inquest was held in the evening.

The older brother, Leif, 23, made an attempt to save the youth when he began floundering in the water and calling for help.

Leif was rescued by passers-by, but they were unable to find the younger lad, and a call was put in for the first aid units.

Any Bonds Today Mister?

As you sit alone in silence
Does your heart skip a beat
As a voice within keeps saying
Get in the fight or face defeat?

It's a message to our nation,
And to all of us at home,
It's the cry of every fighting man
Wherever he may roam.

It's the call of all our loved ones,
In the air, on land, on sea
Telling us to get behind them
In this fight for Liberty.

Buy more bonds, invest in freedom,
Save a neighbor boy at sea;
Be a helper, not a slacker,
Build the tools for Victory.

Don't depend upon your neighbor,
Do your job and do it well.
Show the boys you're in there fighting
As they push on thro' hell.

Back the boys who fly the bombers,
Keep the wings up in the blue.
Send them flying upward ever
'Til this evil war is through.

Support the fighting Marines, Coast Guard,
For they their lives will give
That we back home in all our comfort,
Once again in peace can live.

We're no better than the soldier,
Giving all for freedom's name.
He didn't start this darned war either,
But he's fighting just the same.

Now is the time to help and back them,
So don't wait another day;
They can't fight with tomorrow's weapons
Give them planes and guns today!

While our boys their lives are giving
So we forever free can stay,
Is it asking too much, Mister,
For you to buy a Bond today?

Desire for Freedom Is Essential

The United States came into being because a majority of our public leaders and the people were consumed with a genuine desire to be free men and the masters of government. The world has progressed because groups of people had an undying faith in certain philosophies of religion or human conduct in which they believed.

How many people in the United States today are uncompromising in their desire to retain personal liberty and democracy within the framework of our Republic? Of late years, there have been too many politicians insinuating that as a nation we have outgrown the constitutional ideals on which this country was founded.

A majority of our people must have a consuming desire to retain independence, just as our forefathers had the desire to gain it, or the United States as we have known it will be but an era in the history books.

Battle Traffic Comes First

Those who are thoughtlessly planning trips by train this summer should heed the words of Colonel J. Monroe Johnson, Director, Office of Defense Transportation, spoken shortly before the invasion, emphasizing the necessity of clearing transportation facilities of any unnecessary travel. "When the landing barges nose onto the shores of Europe," he said, "and our men fight through the enemy defenses, the casualties must be immediately evacuated and dispatched to America. There will be no room or safety for the disabled on the strife-torn beachheads.

"When the wounded arrive in hospital ships, and replacements and reinforcements are being rushed to our ports, every facility of the nation must and will be immediately available. The transportation system must be free to respond to any demands that the occasion may make upon it. Any unessential traveler who gets caught in the invasion traffic will have only himself to blame if he is indefinitely stranded, or finds his Pullman reservations cancelled, or finds passenger schedules temporarily disrupted and intercity busses completely swamped. . . . there will be no sympathy for the stranded traveler."

Those are grim words spoken in deadly earnestness. Heretofore the traveling public has been asked to cooperate to ease the load on the transportation system. The railroads, on whom the heaviest burden falls, have managed to sustain service in the face of well nigh insurmountable handicaps and record demand. With the crisis of the war upon us, railroad managements sincerely hope that everyone will remember that the railroads are doing the best they can, and that battle traffic comes first.

and sit on logs to see the picture," he adds.
"This New Guinea weather is very uncomfortable. It is very hot and rainy."

Earlier in his letter he observes, "I am getting the paper regularly over here now. Every little bit of news from home is very welcome to us."

In a postscript he says, "I also wish to thank the Antioch American Legion post for its part in sending the Antioch News and for its untiring efforts in keeping the addresses of the boys in the service up to date."

"We appreciate what the Legion is doing for us by sponsoring the 'Bill of Rights' and other bills insuring justice to us when we triumphantly achieve victory and return home to our loved ones. They did their part in the last war and we are doing ours in this one. Many thanks!"

—V—
From somewhere in Italy—
"I have been receiving the News regularly and during the past few weeks I have noticed that you have the wrong initials, serial number and rank, so here it is—M/Sgt. Allen G. Anderson, 38318214. The address is right."

"Not much news that I can tell about, but will give you what little there is. Our group completed its two-hundredth combat mission not so long ago, so you can figure from that the work the ground crews have to do to 'keep 'em flying'."

"In the paper you have been running the story 'Queens Die Proudly.' I know where that ship was salvaged, and a part of it with the name hangs in a club house that has been built by ground men. I can tell more about that after the war is over and we all get back home."

"The weather here has been dry of late. We sure could do with some rain to settle the dust. When the wind blows it's just like it was while I was stationed in Texas."

"In the near future your paper will get a story that is being sent out by our group. I would like to tell about it myself, but would probably get too much information that wouldn't pass the censor, so you can be looking for it."

—V—
"Howdy Folks" is the word from Pfc. William J. Overton, San Diego, Calif. "Just a notice of a change in address, and thanks for keeping the News coming out this way. Don't meet many Antioch marines—where are some of the lads? My new address is ATS, 131, MCAD, Miramar." Pvt. Overton is a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hawkins, Antioch, and has many friends here.

What's behind us?

HURRY UP, AMERICA! GIVE HIM YOUR ANSWER!

the Fifth War Loan Drive ends July 8th!

AMERICANS!

You in the factories. You in the offices.
You on the farms. You in the homes.

You cannot—you must not—fail to get behind your fighting man in this supreme, heroic hour.

He knows what's ahead.

Bloody, bitter fighting... superhuman toil
... hardship... pain... perhaps death.

He's facing it. He'll keep on facing it, as long as there's breath in his body and blood in his veins.

But he wants to know what's behind him.

And you have only a few days left to give him the answer.

That answer will be written in the final figures on the Fifth War Loan Drive.

For this is the crucial, the all-important Drive. Never has the need for War Bond buying been so great.

To make the Drive a success, you—and everyone else—must buy at least twice as many Bonds as you bought in the last drive.

If you haven't yet bought your full share,
DO IT NOW! The time is short! Make
YOUR supreme effort in HIS supreme hour!

Remember—a soldier, your soldier, is waiting for his answer. What will it be...
from you?

And here are 5 MORE reasons for buying EXTRA Bonds in the 5th!

1. War Bonds are the best, the safest investment in the world!
2. War Bonds return you $4 for every $3 in 10 years.
3. War Bonds help keep prices down.
4. War Bonds will help win the Peace by increasing purchasing power after the war.
5. War Bonds mean education for your children, security for you, funds for retirement.

Joseph C. James' Celebrate their 55th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. James' fifty-fifth wedding anniversary, unlike their golden wedding celebration, five years ago, which was a gala affair, was observed quietly at their home on Orchard street June 18 with only members of the family and a few intimate friends presenting felicitations.

Those attending the family dinner at 1 o'clock included Mr. and Mrs. Ralph James and family, Mrs. Louise Gilbert and Mrs. Edward Gilbert, all of Chicago.

Many gifts and messages were received in honor of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. James take pride in the fact that they have lived for 55 years on the same street in the same town, and have resided in the same house for 47 years.

SERVICE FLAG IS DEDICATED AT ST. IGNATIUS'

A service flag bearing 23 stars for members of the parish who are serving in the armed forces was dedicated at services of St. Ignatius' Episcopal church Sunday. The flag was presented by mothers who have sons in the service.

Plans are now being made by the parish for dedication of a church honor roll.

The frame for the Honor Roll was made by Rev. Laurence R. Van Patten, Camp Shelby, Miss., before he entered the army April 18.

CEDAR LAKE 4-H CLUB HAS BUSINESS MEETING

A talk on "Accident Prevention" was given by Betty Mae Erickson at a meeting of the Cedar Lake 4-H club Tuesday evening in the home of Colleen Ireland, club reporter. The poem "Recipe for a 4-H Member" was read by Jean Crichton.

Mrs. Ann Poulsen gave a talk on "Good Growing." Mrs. Roy Crichton, leader, discussed the new project books after the business meeting, which was under the charge of Jean Crichton. A demonstration on the preparation of chocolate milk drinks was given by Beverly and Lenore Hansen.

Refreshments and a social time were enjoyed afterward.

WORLD TURNING TO RELIGION, CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS BELIEVE

Regardless of the German blockade of Europe, copies of Christian Science periodicals were reported by the Trustees under the Will of Mary Baker Eddy to be finding their way into Switzerland. It is announced in reports of the recent annual meeting received by the local church.

Before an audience of several thousand Christian Scientists assembled in Boston, Mass., the directors cited the universal determination to win the peace as advance evidence of a world-wide realization that "righteous victory under arms will not suffice to guarantee freedom to mankind."

Reports from the field and from the various departments of the Christian Science movement indicated a sharp turn to religion as the mainstay of a war-torn world.

Card of Thanks

To those who so wholeheartedly cooperated with Medinah and Lake County Shrine organizations Sunday I extend my heartfelt thanks. No other village could have possibly put their hearts into an affair as was done by so many of the fine citizens of my home town. May I live long enough to show my appreciation in some way to repay each and every one of you individually.

Most sincerely and respectfully,
Fred B. Swanson.

CHAPTER XXIII

"So the Major started out then on trying to find this Cloncurry—you fly so many minutes north, and then east, and then south, and then west, and then, lengthening your time, north again, and so on. We kept this up for quite a while, but no Cloncurry, and our gas was running out. I'll say this, though, the Major sure wasn't running short of advice. What with his cockpit full of air generals of all nations, he had plenty of that, and every different kind you can imagine—they all knew just what to do.

"They were all looking pretty worried by now, except the Swoose crew. One particular high officer was really carrying the ball here, only he couldn't worry so well sitting down, so he'd pace back and forth from the cabin up to the cockpit, asking Frank did he think he had enough gas, and why did he think so, and how could he be sure?

"The trouble was, every time he paced from the nose of the plane back to the tail, it would throw the plane out of balance, and Frank here would have to trim ship, in addition to all the questions he was answering. I guess this pacer had never thought of that.

"By this time Frank had decided the only thing to do was to make a forced landing, so he was leaning over the side trying to pick a spot."

"We have a saying in the Air Corps that any forced landing you can walk away from is a good one," said Frank, "and yet with all this rank aboard I knew if I spilled them all over Central Australia, there would be hell to pay. I wanted to make it as easy as possible. None of that country looked any too good, but we finally spotted a couple of white houses where we thought there might be some help in case we cracked up badly and yet some were still alive. So I dropped down to what was the most likely place near them and dragged it a couple of times—few over low, circled to come back and buzz again, looking for gullies I mightn't have seen from upstairs. The sun was very low, and we wanted to get it over with (whatever it was going to be) while it was still light."

"With all of those guys yammering at you, telling you what to do," said Red, "and this guy pacing. Only for a while he stopped, but just for a minute, while he was putting on a parachute. Why, I wouldn't quite know. Because we were down to 500 feet, and if he did jump of course it would never have time to crack. But I didn't say a word, because buckling himself in was keeping him quiet. Only right away he starts this pacing again, with the poor Major trying to nose her down for a crash landing, and he tells me to tell them all to get back in the tail so it will act as a brake, only this guy starts pacing again.

"Now I was getting the jumps, for even if the Major is the best pilot in the business, a crash landing is no joke, even for old-timers. So I grab this pacing guy and 'Nov look,' I says to him. 'You may carry plenty of rank on your shoulders, but to this pilot you're just two hundred pounds of ballast. So now you quit shifting around—you get on back there and sit down.' And I herded him back to the very tip end of the plane, and pushed him down, parachute and all, on that little seat. You've probably been wondering all along, just where this little seat is, on a bomber. Well, it's just where it would be any place else—even on a farm—all you do is follow the clothes line, back down to the end of the grape arbor, and there she sets.

"Well, I pushed him down on the seat, and in about a minute there was quite a bump, but still it was a perfect three-point landing. In four seconds the Major had her rolling smooth. The ground was soft. Twenty-five tons is a lot of bomber, and her wheels began to sink in—about six inches. But the Major could sense this, so he gave gas to all four engines to keep her rolling, and taxied her up to high ground hard enough to hold her up.

"We got out. Pretty soon Australian ranchers begin crawling out of holes in the ground—I don't know where else they came from—and right away Lieutenant Commander Johnson gets busy. He begins to be acquainted. They tell him where we are and some of them go off to a truck to take us into town where we can telephone, and more keep coming, and Johnson is shaking hands all around, and he comes back and tells us these are real folks—the best darn folks in the world, except maybe the folks in his own Texas. Pretty soon he knows all their first names, and they're telling him why there ought to be a high tariff on wool, and there's no question he's taking that country for Johnson before we left. He was in his element. I know he sure swung the Swoose crew. He can carry that precinct any day."

"Listening to him made us all homesick," said Frank, "so I suppose it was a good thing we got suddenly ordered back to the States at the end of the month. In a curious way I was ready now to come. I'd turned it down before, because after we were thrown out of Java we all had that sick feeling—trying to hold onto something that was slipping away in spite of everything you did. You couldn't walk out feeling things might suddenly cave in again.

"But now it was different. In Australia and that island chain above we were getting firmly set, the way we should have been in the Philippines and Java, and didn't have time.

"But we'd had it now, and knew how to use it. Best of all, we were finally getting some fighting equipment, not just production figures. So even though we were soaking up plenty of heavy punches in the island chain, we were sure now we could at least hold them. But as yet I hadn't dared hope for much more.

"Only now I come to the thing which at last changed that, because I had to see it before I could believe it.

"It happened out on that long trans-Pacific trail where we've almost worn ruts in the sky between the States and Australia. It was like this. We were letting down for one of the island steppingstones which, according to Harry's navigation, should be somewhere ahead of us. It was very early in the morning. Harry's the best navigator in the business, and he had said we should be in there six hours from the time we left the last island. But of course his figures could be a little out, or maybe the wind drift would change—you never know. The Pacific is too big a place to take chances in, as Eddie Rickenbacker's party found out. So after we'd been out five hours we got the island on the radio, and asked them to give us searchlights, just so we wouldn't miss their little pinpoint in the dawn.

"We'd flown without change of course for five hours. Now Harry took his final shots and we started down the line to that island. Harry had said six hours—it took us just five hours and fifty-seven minutes. The island was an atoll around a shallow basin where Navy PBV flying boats could light. The atoll is two feet above high tide at its high point. On one side are labor construction tents, a cantonment building for the tiny garrison, ack-ack, searchlights, and even a tiny movie theater. On the other side is the landing strip. I'll swear Harry must have navigated not for the island, but for that landing strip itself. For without change of course, all we have to do is let our wheels down. Some day I want Eddie Rickenbacker to meet Harry.

"As we climbed out of the Swoose, the island garrison asked us, very excited, 'Did you see anything?' When we said we hadn't, they went off by themselves, whispering. I wanted to know what was up, so I asked their Colonel. Told him we were on an important mission ourselves—had a top-ranker aboard—and what did he expect here at this atoll?

"Trouble," he said. Looking at his little setup, I couldn't help thinking of those poor guys who were overwhelmed on Wake Island. But the Colonel wasn't sure what kind of trouble was coming. He only knew orders had mysteriously come putting the Navy patrol planes on extra-long hours, doubling shifts. Somewhere, somebody was certainly on the lookout for something, and those poor devils had to sit on that atoll and guess what it might be.

"It didn't smell good. We gassed up and got out forty-five minutes later, just as it was cracking dawn. By now, the equatorial front had dissolved into a spotted ceiling. I suppose we'd been going an hour when, through a hole in this ceiling, out suddenly peeped four or five ships down on the wrinkled sea. But I could only look at one of them.

"Now you think you're a man, with everything under control, yet I'm telling you I reacted to this one the way a fox terrier does to a rat. Because it was a whopping aircraft carrier! And after Java and the Philippines, say 'carrier' to a pilot, and he steadies everything for his bomb run, tensa as a violin string, hoping his bombardier has the halflines of his bomb sight crossed on its flight deck just over the engine room. It's like a bird dog pointing quail, with his tail tip quivering. Only, after half a second, I'm a man again and can think, can remember we haven't any bombs swinging on their shackles in our bomb bays—nothing we can drop on this beautiful target but the high-ranking passenger who is riding with us.

"Then comes reaction number two. No bombs, but what about the carrier's cowering fighters? You talk about a mother tiger fighting for her young—that's nothing to the way a patrolling carrier fighter will defend its mother ship. Because every carrier-based fighter knows that once his carrier is hit and the waves begin to sweep over that long flight deck, and one end of her hoists up in the air, then he's out in the big sky by his lonesome—no pontoons, nothing to do but sink into the sea when his tanks are dry. Those Zeros will come screaming in to hit me from almost any cloud. Since I can't make a bomb run, I must get away quick!

"But now, over the interphones, comes a shout—they've spotted another carrier. I look and see it too. Then another! And now—my God, it can't be, but it is—four! It makes us frantic we haven't got something to plunk through those smooth flight decks into their engine rooms, and maybe blow a few square yards out of the bottom of their hulls!

"Only we now grow cold, because where are the escorting fighters? We can't speed up, because they should be up ahead, but they might show up any place—come leaping up at us out of this fleecy blanket of overcast like dolphins jumping through the foam.

"Down there are not only four carriers but a gang of other stuff—a fog of destroyers, at least fifteen cruisers, and one thundering big battleship. Only as a bomber pilot I'm fixed on those carriers, enormous brutes. Too enormous. Say, what's going on? Because Jap carriers are little devils—you can hardly pack forty planes into them, while these might hold double that, like our best ones. Now wait. Maybe we're too low and these just look big, but no—I glance at the altimeter and we're at 7,500.

"So they're ours! This big parade of surface strength is us Americans! I change course just the same—30 degrees, swinging wide of this big naval parade, because we can take no chances on their air patrol. Even an American carrier fighter, when he sees a bomber over his mother ship, should shoot first and ask questions later. We don't want to tangle with Grummans.

"We swing out wide and away, but with what a different feeling! Because it's our own boys down there on that big gang of ships! At last, even after Pearl Harbor, we can hold up our heads in these Pacific waters! We'd stopped them in the air, holding them back to Timor and Lae, and at last I can see we're beginning to sweep them off the top of the waters. A long job, but we've begun it!

"Well, I guess that's about all, except on our homeward trip, we cracked the trans-Pacific record wide open. The old Swoose, with her war-worn motors, made it from Brisbane to San Francisco in thirty-six hours ten minutes flying time, the only one of the original 35 on Clark Field to see home again.

"Then there was our last night flight in. Clear, so the stars were out, even down to the horizon. And calm, so I could put the Swoose on automatic pilot and sit there half-dozing, thinking about all those months. Mostly about my trip out, in Old 99 and with my other crew. And the way old Tex used to sit beside me, slumped in his seat. You'd think that happy-go-lucky kid was asleep, and yet somehow he always kept an eye cocked on the instrument panel and the horizon, so if anything started to go even a little funny, Tex would snap up, quick as a fox terrier pup, bless him. And so much had happened since then—two wars, really three. And then I thought of that sprawling line of my crew on Clark Field. And of Old 99, so crumpled, sagging on the ground. But something had somehow happened to wipe that out. Because at times like these, half-dozing, it seemed like I was back with the old gang again, who had brought me safe out East and now were bringing me home again. Everything easy and comfortable; old Tex beside me, and Sergeant Burgess probably catching a few winks on the bunk in the cabin, and all I had to do was sit here and follow those two wing lights, so steady ahead in the dark, those unwavering wing lights which would lead me safely back. On calm nights like this, in formation, there's little flying to do; those wing lights ahead seem to pull you home.

"I guess I must have been dozing, because a little motor undulation aroused me, and I realized of course there was no plane ahead—never had been one. It had only been two blue stars which are close together in the eastern sky, and the Swoose was alone, over the Pacific. Yet somehow I didn't feel alone. And Old 99 didn't feel far away."

"When they said long distance was calling from San Francisco, of course that didn't mean anything to me," said Margo. "With two brothers in the Air Corps, one in bombardment and one in pursuit, it might be either one. Then I heard Frank's own voice saying 'Margo?' Because I hadn't heard any overseas operators, or any censor clogging in. I knew he must be here in the States. For the first time I could cry on the phone. It's nice to be strong, but so much more fun to let down when you can, and I did."

YESTERDAYS

49 YEARS AGO
In the Antioch News

Yachts and catboats taking part in the regatta on Saturday last, with their captains, were the Hornet, Capt. Oliver Soffitt, com.; Alice, Capt. Eddy Lehmann; Vallera, Capt. Charles Praesant; Joker, Capt. Clark Bennett; Frolic, Capt. Charles Hills; Marcella, Capt. R. H. Morrison; Grimaldin, Capt. Robert Tooker; Canvas Back, Capt. R. D. Hill, vice-com.; Vixen, Capt. Harry Weber; Happy Days, Capt. John Putnam.

A large delegation of Chicago people were out at the various resorts over the week-end. The traffic out to the lakes during the past week has been very good, most of the busses being loaded after every train.

The Ladies of the Fresh Air Home have arranged to have their annual regatta on Saturday, August 3, on the Fox Lake course, at which time the Antioch News cup will be competed for. Following the regatta, a dramatic entertainment will be given at Wilton's Opera House, Antioch, for the benefit of the Home.

The assessor has been interviewing the residents of the village on the financial question during the past few days, with the result, as usual, that everyone is poorer than this neighbor, in fact to poor that were he to stand in the sunlight of finance he would fall to cast a shadow.

Ren Johannott is treating his house to a coat of paint, which will materially improve its appearance. (Ed. Note—The days of fearless journalism!)

17 YEARS AGO
June 23, 1927

Part of the Channel Lake school district has been detached and will be added to the Antioch Grade school district.

A temporary right-of-way connecting Orchard street with Channel lake road while Lake street is being paved has been secured through the property of Barney Naber and George Golwitzer.

Wendell Nelson, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Boyer Nelson, was severely injured when struck by the car of a Chicago vacationist as he ran across Main street.

Officers from the sheriff's department paid visits this week and last to a number of places in the lake region and in Waukegan, and made arrests for the possession and sale of intoxicating liquors.

DRIVE IT HOME!

"That's the way I like to see them," said Gen. MacArthur when he saw the rows of dead Japs in the Admiralty Islands. In this war—the costliest, cruelest war of all time—our boys must fight with savage fury. Kill or be killed! And on how well each plays his part depends the lives of many of his buddies.

Here on the home front, too, just cheering the attack on isn't enough.

That's why there's a Fifth War Bond drive on now, a drive in which you're needed to support the men on the fighting fronts who are facing the most treacherous forces Americans have ever met in combat. We on the home front can't let them down—and we won't. So resolve now to at least double your Bond buying in the 5th War Loan drive. This is the time to do better than your best.
